High School News

High school students were given a short talk Monday morning by Dr. Ozora of the Chicago Theological seminary. Dr. Davis took as his theme the three essential qualities, which every high school student must acquire to win success. The first quality was ambition, while the second and third were hard work and honesty. The speaker advised all the students to go to college after finishing their high school course and stated that those who tried could enter even though little money was afforded them. Dr. Davis said that the greatest benefit that he received from his high school days was the true friends made.

In the freshmen manual training classes basketball game Friday night, Zimmerman's Olympics defeated Crabtree's Sharpshooters by a 19 to 9 score. Emmons starred for the Olympics.

ENTHUSIASM HIGH AS CHURCH LAUNCHES INTEREST CAMPAIGN

Enthusiasm ran at high tide in the Richards Memorial church, Sunday, when, as a result of a booster effort, the aggregate attendance for the day was the best within a year. With an attendance of over 100 in the Sunday school, 125 in morning worship, 35 in Junior Christian Endeavor, 100 in Senior Christian Endeavor, and 100 in the evening service, the total was above any previous Sunday.

The church workers are divided into a booster committee of four captains and 15 lieutenants, making four teams. Each lieutenant is leader of four families. The boosters are not all within the committee of twenty. The great majority of all the members are boosters.

While Sunday was definitely booster-day, it was but one Sunday in a booster period. Plans are laid out for the week, but to make them more effective, the church is increasing its interest in every department is the goal.

In the morning the pastor preached on "The Biggest Booster in the Church." The church needs boosters, he said. To be a genuine booster, calls for investment of energy, effort, time, talent, and life. To be a genuine booster for Christ requires the divine power, the power of Christ to work through his life. Four were received into the membership at this service.

The sermon of the evening was delivered by Richard Hilton, a young man who has lately taken up the work of the ministry. His message was distinctly one of character, strength and help. He took for his subject "Building for the Kingdom." He compared the kingdom to a great structure, built on the "unit plan"; each foundation of this structure he pointed out to be character, strengthened and stabilized by the life of the Master builder, who is also designated as the chief corner-stone. He said the ideal way to build such a structure was not to shut out the workers, but to have each unit or one division off from other divisions, but to make them open to each other.

He said that it was too often true that when the "key" foreman, often called "connecting" to the workers, the workers went "on a strike," and "striking" in the church, dynamite the structure by hatred, malice, envy and jealousy.

The individual has received his pay in advance, in the multiplied blessings of God, and in addition is promised an eternal bonus. Yet he is a striker on God's structural work.

"The roof of this plant is the love of God. It is the privilege of all to work beneath the roof of love. The building is fastened securely to the units by the 'link and pin' system. The cycle of prayer and through that eyelet the pin of faith fastens to the unit love for God, the unit that blows can move it from its fastenings."

The services Sunday night were in charge of Mr. Hilton's Sunday school class of young men. They composed the choir, read the scripture, led in prayer, received the offering, and presided.

2 KILLED, 39 HURT IN RAIL SMASH-UP ON ROCKFORD ROAD

and that there was no indication of a fault in the rails.
After the engine passed the faulty spot, the car began to leave the track. Thompson was in the baggage car immediately behind the locomotive, but was not injured.
As soon as we realized what had happened, we began removing those who were hurt. I left immediately for the Johnson farm, over a mile away, and summoned the Rockford fire and relief train arriving about an hour and a half.
In the meantime, we had been busy taking the injured from the wreckage. Mr. Johnson got a team to the wreck, and the relief train arrived about an hour and a half later, carrying the injured to Rockford hospitals.

Thompson was complimented by road officials for quick action in securing the wreck.

Robert W. Thullenian, an army sergeant, who had been visiting at his home in this city, was returning to Camp Grant on the train. He sustained injuries to his shoulder and his right arm was hurt. He is not seriously injured.

Mrs. Mert Kellacher, wife of a Janesville railroad man, was cut in the back of the head and her arm was badly slashed.

A. S. Krotz, Walter Utzig and W. L. Caniff were injured about the head. J. M. Easton, living on Route 1, Janesville, said he was sitting in the back of the car when the accident occurred. "I don't remember much about it," he said. "We were sitting in the smoker in the front of the car. One moment we were at one end of the car and the next we were at the other. It happened so quickly that I couldn't think." Mr. Easton escaped with slight bruises. Accompanying Mr. Easton was Walter Utzig, Janesville, who talked to the hospital he insisted that he was not badly hurt but was forced to stay in bed for the remainder of the night.

Carl S. Stricker, of Edgerton, was not seriously hurt. His injuries consisted of bruises and scratches. "I am certainly lucky," he said when he reached the hospital. When I came to my senses after the crash I found myself in the arms of Mrs. Fred Brown, Sabula, Ia., who was probably fatally crushed. It certainly was a pitiful sight to see Mrs. Brown helplessly pinned beneath the wreck. It was nearly an hour before we were able to remove her.

The scene of the wreck was one of desolation. Wooded hills, surrounding the deep ravine into which the cars tumbled, made a dreary setting. A cold, drizzling rain falling added to the discomfort of the injured as well as those unscathed. Farmers of the neighborhood came to the assistance of the wrecked train. Squads of men with axes chopped holes in the cars and extricated those pinned beneath the wreckage. Many were not taken from the wreckage until after the arrival of the relief trains. Physicians from Rockford arrived on the scene about 8 o'clock and gave aid to one of the most serious injuries. They were rushed to a hospital in Rockford where a staff of doctors and nurses worked until early in the morning, relieving the pain.

Passengers who had not been severely hurt bound up their wounds with handkerchiefs and aided the physicians in caring for those more seriously injured.

Conductor Thompson had little to say regarding the wreck. He was so confused that he could not give much of an account of the accident. "This is my first wreck in 50 years," he said. "I have worked for the Milwaukee road for that length of time and have never known a smash-up before. I hope to God that I never see another."

The duties of the new officer will be to cooperate with the employment service and to assist in placing discharged men in jobs. Aid will be secured through the demobilization bureau of the Y. M. C. Train information will also be furnished. If a sufficient number of men are forced to remain here over night due to train service, programs of entertainment will be provided them.

Grimm Takes Testimony in Real Estate Partition Case

Holding that a man may not carry liquor from a "wet" town to his friends in a "dry" town, Judge Grimm handed down his final decision in the real estate partition case in circuit court yesterday afternoon. The decision directly sustains that of Judge John B. Clark and a six-man jury in Beloit. A Beloit appeal was taken to the federal circuit court last year on the charge of carrying three quarts of liquor from Janesville to friends in Beloit, who apparently had given him a check with which to purchase it. He was found guilty of the charge but he took an appeal from the decision on the grounds that it was not legal.

DEEMED NOT WISE TO RELEASE FARMER CLASS FROM ARMY

[Special to the Gazette]

Madison, Feb. 25.—The war department has not deemed it for the best interests of the country as a whole to issue orders directing the general discharge of farmers.

This is the statement from a letter received from Major Henry Jervay, assistant chief of staff and director of operations, Washington, in reply to a resolution passed recently by the Wisconsin legislature. The resolution has offered Major Jervay $5,000 to be paid to the Wisconsin legislature if the war department would pass both houses of the legislature.

"The war department appreciates the necessity of the early return of soldiers to the farms from which they were taken," the reply. "The war department is denobilizing its military units just as rapidly as these units can be spared."

"The war department has not deemed it for the best interests of the country as a whole to issue orders directing the general discharge of all farmers, because it is not regarded as equitable to excuse any particular class from contributing its quota to the accomplishment of the large amount of work still remaining for the army to do. At all times during demobilization individuals may make application for their discharge. It is not, however, possible to discharge immediately on his application every soldier who requests such discharge, even to return to farming or other essential industry. There are certain soldiers whose services cannot be spared. For them the emergency is not over and loyal and self-sacrificing men must serve."

"The war department is pleased to note that the Wisconsin state legislature, while urging the earliest possible discharge of as many as possible of the men who were engaged in farm work in Wisconsin at the time they entered the service formerly a farmer, regarding of it as essential to the military service during the present emergency, must be arbitrarily discharged immediately from the military service."

Estimate of the Two Million Dollar Road Bond Issue

BY CHARLES E. MOORE, COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER

The county board has called a special meeting to consider the advisability of drawing a bond issue resolution, to be submitted to the people at the next election.

It is well at this time, to begin a study of the merits of the proposition in order that we as voters, may vote intelligently upon the question. Under the modern development of social and commercial relations highways have become a necessity, and it is simply a question of endeavoring to obtain the greatest road value for the money invested, consistent with the requirements of the traffic.

We started ten years ago under the county aid system of construction, and later this was merged into a county and state aid system, during which time we have built in Rock county about 300 miles of gravel road, and about a mile and a half of concrete road. Next season we expect to complete by building in a few miles of connecting links, our entire main line system of roads in the county. This money, so far, has been well invested in the sense that a major portion of the money has gone to pay for the construction of the grades, culverts, and bridges, and the gravel surfacing that we have used has enabled us to provide a cheap form of road surface, which is the immediate purpose of building our highway system economically and quickly, and in a manner that would render them at least passable.

The development of motor traffic, and especially of auto truck transportation has reached such a stage that gravel roads, cheaply as they can be built, are not a permanent investment. To sustain such a tremendous burden, in other words, they have outlived their usefulness. If we are to judge by the attitude of the people that we have been meeting, particularly of late, in the county, the verdict is strictly in favor of concrete roads. Our main traveled system of roads then resolves itself into a question of how best to satisfy the public demands in this respect. One very unsatisfactory method is to build a hundred-mile system of roads piecemeal. This hundred mile system of roads consists of the State Trunk Highway system and is situated as follows:

The Janesville-Koshkonong road through Milton Junction; the Janesville-Delavan road through Emoryville; the Janesville-Beloit road through Yost's park; the Janesville-Edgerton road; the Janesville-Hanover-Orfordville road to Brodhead; the Beloit-Clinton road eastward to the county line; the Janesville-Evansville-Brooklyn road. This road is not a trunk line system, but it is conceded to be a road that has to sustain as much traffic as any other in the county, and will doubtless be placed on the trunk line system at this session of the legislature. At any rate it should be included in any prospective construction program entered into by the county.

The piecemeal method of constructing this highway system, meaning that it would be constructed a little each year, its funds might become available. The funds are known as the state and federal aid funds. The state aid funds consist of money contributed yearly by the state, county, township, city and village. The federal aid funds are known as the state and federal aid funds. The state aid funds are divided into two equal parts, the first fifty per cent of which goes to the construction of the trunk line system, and the second fifty per cent to the construction of roads of the trunk line system.

The federal aid funds are made up by the federal and state government and the county's quota. There is already a federal aid fund available amounting to $110,000, which is to be devoted to building the first six miles of the Beloit-Janesville road. A bill has now passed congress appropriating $200,000,000 for highway purposes, not only with the idea of building roads, but to provide labor for the unemployed during the reconstruction period, while the country is changing from war industry to peace industry. This will give to Rock county on the basis of the previous allotment a sum of $300,000, in addition to what we now have. In order to render this fund available the present year, which is really the important thing, from the standpoint of reconstruction purposes, it will be necessary for the county to issue bonds to cover its share of the fund and also to advance the state's share until the state can provide the money through the tax levy. The constitution forbids a bond issue by the state. This in itself justifies a special meeting of the county board. By so doing it would enable us to build this year the entire stretch between Beloit and Janesville, which would be a notable achievement.

But the board will be expected to consider primarily the broad question of a bond issue, involving the construction of as soon as practicable, the entire hundred mile system.

Now the same funds that are available for piecemeal construction are available for liquidation of a bond issue—namely the first fifty per cent state aid and the federal aid funds and what may be levied against county, cities, villages and townships. It is impossible to state definitely what these sums will amount to as they are subject to change at each session of our legislative bodies, but from a study of the question, I am led to believe that we may not expect to build this entire hundred mile system piecemeal out of regular funds available in less than 25 years. Do we want to wait that long? As a matter of fact it would be a waste of money to build piecemeal that long stretches of highways could be let by contract under a bond issue for more cheaply than would be the case where only short stretches are let at a time. I believe we are safe in saying that there would be a saving here of ten per cent, and we would have the advantage of completing the entire system within five years. This would depend somewhat upon the labor supply. Some years we might build thirty miles while labor would be plentiful, otherwise it might not be wise to build so extensively as labor for highway construction should not be taken from productive industries. If then, we have the construction of highways in three to five years by the use of bonds as compared with 25 years piecemeal, and can build them with the same funds and can build them cheaper, what remains to be considered?

We would say it is simply the question of interest on the bonds. Now the maximum period for a bond issue for the county under the law is 20 years, and these bonds would be so issued as to provide for equitable liquidation each year during the 20 year period following construction. What then will this amount to? We have placed the maximum estimate for the construction of these roads at $20,000 per mile or a total of $2,000,000. We will have available this year, out of funds, already accrued $110,000.00. Adding to that the $200,000 and $150,000 federal and state allotments for 1919 (ten per cent covered by whole sale construction), it would leave then a total cost of $1,540,000. This will be still further reduced by the amounts levied against the towns, cities and villages where the work goes in to remain a balance of $1,000 per mile, under federal aid to 40 per cent of the counties 60 per cent under state aid. We will assume it an average of $2,000 per mile or leaving a balance in round numbers we would say $1,240,000 for which bonds will have to be issued and there would be then an average outstanding issue for the 20 years of $670,000. At five per cent this would amount to $335,000 per annum or $837,500 total. We can offset this by the amount that would have to be expended in the maintenance of our present highway system in case we should have to wait the 25 years for their piecemeal construction.

This maintenance fund has been steadily increasing from a few thousand dollars to $60,000 for the present year. Allowing half of this to maintenance on the hundred mile system and considering the fact that this system is to remain in use for a few years, the entire system must be rebuilt as soon as possible. Allowing half of this to maintenance on the hundred mile system and considering the fact that this system is to remain in use for a few years, the entire system must be rebuilt as soon as possible. The surfacing must be deepened and widened from nine to sixteen feet, to render it at all competent to take care of the traffic. This will not cost less than $2,500 a mile, or a total of $250,000. Granting that no more than $20,000 per annum will be needed for maintenance for the next 25 years, which is a conservative estimate, we have then a total sum of $1,000,000 necessary expenditure upon highways for their maintenance, as compared with $837,500 dollars that will be paid out for interest on the bonds. Taking it on the whole then we will actually save $162,500 as between the two methods of procedure by means of the bond issue, and we would get in the shortest possible time, a system of concrete roads with a minimum width of sixteen feet that would be the finest of any county in the northwest excepting Milwaukee county, and doubtless would increase the usefulness of automobiles and trucks and the general welfare of the county to an extent that it is impossible to estimate. It would be worth the cost even if there were no saving. At any rate if we are going to spend the money as we surely will, why not get some immediate benefits.

Once this system of concrete highways is completed travel would concentrate upon them to the relief of other roads, and would render our secondary system much more easy of maintenance, otherwise I fear that destructive traffic will alternate from one road to another faster than our funds will permit us to rebuild. I think the authorization of the bond issue should be large enough to do what it promises to do, namely, build the entire system, and I believe I have given the figures for it so far as they can be reasonably estimated. I believe the people should have a chance to decide what course they wish to pursue. They will then have a share in the responsibility and their decision, whatever it may be, will be accepted as the will of the people. The authorization of the issue should be so drawn that the bonds would be issued as needed, subject to the discretion of the county board. This would give ample protection against unforeseen contingencies.

"Your Nose Knows"

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "...on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ...the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves." Tuxedo uses chocolate—the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings! Everybody likes chocolate—we all know that chocolate added to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable. That is why a dash of chocolate, added to the most carefully selected and properly aged burley tobacco, makes Tuxedo more enjoyable—"Your Nose Knows."

Try This Test: Rub a little Tuxedo briskly in the palm of your hand to bring out its full aroma. Then smell it deep—its delicious, pure fragrance will convince you. Try this test with any other tobacco and we will let Tuxedo stand or fall on your judgment—

MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

Thomas E. Welsh, alderman from the fourth ward, has announced himself a candidate for mayor. He declares that if elected he will use his best efforts to see that his duties and supporters are not disappointed.
Mr. Welsh's record in the council during his service of one term shows him to be a man who has made a study of the city's finances and one who has closely watched every cent which the city has been asked to spend.

There will no doubt be other candidates for the office, following the announcement of the alderman from the fourth.

The man who sits in the mayor's chair not only for the next term, but for some time in the future should be one who will advocate a safe and sane policy in the expenditure of the city's money and at the same time insist that the city keep pace with the growth which is assured through the entrance of industrial concerns into Janesville.

This city is going to grow rapidly and the start has already been made.
Judging from the experiences of other cities in this country, situated in a similar position, the greatest difficulty is going to be in keeping the city abreast of the enterprises which are about ready to start up the wheels of industry. The city administration at times in the future is going to be hard pressed to keep pace with the progression. Problems will arise which will demand careful solving. Resourcefulness in handling these problems so that the development will not be retarded will be one of the big tasks of the future administration.

The theory that "what was good enough for our fathers is good enough for us," will not hold. We have had forced upon us a duty which if well performed, will bring big returns not only in dollars and cents, but in civic achievement. We must have a vision broad enough to build safely for the future.

A PEACE ARMY.

Congress in refusing to provide for a peace army of more than 175,000 men has had to meet a great deal of criticism. Patriotism has no doubt moved those who wish a much larger standing army. But have they considered the difficulty of raising say a volunteer army of 500,000 men?

How many fellows of your acquaintance who have been in the service of Uncle Sam have shown a desire to remain in the army? Most of them wished to be demobilized as soon as the armistice was signed and there were about 3,000,000 men being uniformed at that time. It is doubtful if there are 300,000 young, able-bodied men in America who would volunteer.

They have not been encouraged to volunteer. They have been put up against a game which has not caused them to warm up to the proposition of continuing in service. There have been too many martinets among the officers; young, undeveloped men who have suddenly been pushed into places of luxury or business houses into places of authority. The men in the ranks have been forced to undergo needless hardships and suffering because the war department, despite all the canned publicity to the contrary was filled with inefficient executives who took advantage of political preference.
Many of the soldiers or their friends have had tastes of court and military life, which most severe penalties were imposed for almost trifling offenses.
They have been made to sweeter on southern highways, building roads at $1 a day while along side of them worked negroes who were paid $5 a day. They have been compelled to do other things, not conducive to improving them as soldiers.

Baker, as secretary of war, has made a flat failure of the army as an institution which will inspire confidence and encourage our youth to accept its inducements as a vocation.
Congress in providing for an army of 175,000 either used a great deal of foresight or hit upon about the number which might be raised through the volunteer system.

ALWAYS LOYAL.

The Rock County Rural Mail Carriers' association passed resolutions at their annual meeting Saturday, preserving loyalty to the government and to the postoffice department.
This expression in words merely reminds us of the loyalty of these faithful men who serve the nation in all kinds of weather; keeping schedules day after day over good roads and bad; uncomplaining and ever willing to serve. Although the resolution was unnecessary to convince us that they are loyal, it showed the patriotic spirit of these public servants.

Things are looking up this week in the legislature. Hearings will occupy the attention of committees on such matters as repealing that section of the primary law which provides that nomination papers be circulated; repeal of provision for making public the cost of political advertising; whether the state life insurance business has been worth continuing and the establishment of an implement manufacturing plant at the state prison. This should keep the lawmakers from ennui and hearten those who believe the soldiers should earn their bread by the wage of their jaws.
There will be lots of jaw-wagging
over those subjects.

The income tax has given the human mind many new tangles to unravel. Now comes the statement that a baby born January, 1918, is worth more to its parents than one born in July. A baby born before July provides a $200 exemption, while one who was brought by the stork after the first of that month is only worth $100 as a charge-off on Dad's income return.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.

That great national game, politics,
is being played to the limit in congress and as a result some of the real important and constructive needs are being cast aside into the discard.
The house committee on appropriations has blundered in reporting the sundry civil service bill with no provision for the public employment bureaus. Five members of the committee, headed by Representative Gal-livan, Massachusetts, wisely dissented from the report, declaring that public employment is part of the governmental machinery needs in bringing about successful reconstruction.
The house committee is showing stupidity in attempting to save a few dollars by cutting off a branch of service which is so badly needed at this time when the cities are filling with discharged soldiers who are seeking work.

If congress passes the bill as recommended, the government bureaus which have made such an efficient record will fall into the discard and returning soldiers will either have to shift for themselves or go to private employment agents, whose principal interest is to get fees from applicants.

Naval experts of the supreme war council have come to the conclusion that the proper disposition of the German warships should be to send them to the bottom of the ocean. What's a mere sum of $500,000,000 in these times when experts talk in billions and we fellows wonder where the deuce we are going to raise the income taxes? Why worry about waste?

Wednesday is Dollar Day in Janesville and judging from the preparations being made by the live business men, those who come to this city to take advantage of the bargains offered will not only save money on their purchases but they will be given an impression of the city's excellent facilities as a permanent trading center.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

A GOOD NAME.

Men talk too much of gold and fame
And not enough about a name.
And yet a good name's better far
Than all earth's glistening jewels
Are.

Who holds his name above all price,
And chooses every sacrifice
To keep his earthly record clear,
Can face the world without a fear.

Who never cheats or lies for gain,
A poor man, may, perhaps remain.
Yet when at night he goes to rest,
No little voice within his breast
Disturbs his slumber; conscience
Is clear.

He falls to sleep with naught to fear,
And when he wakes the world to cheer,
He is not tainted by disgrace.

Who keeps his name without a stain, Wears no man's brand and no man's chain.
He need not fear to speak his mind
In dread of what the world may find.
He then is master of his will,
None may command him to be still,
Nor force him, when he would stand
To finish before the hidden past.

Not all the good that men may claim
Can cover up a deed of shame.
Not all the fame of victory sweet Can free the man who's played the cheat.

He lives a slave unto the last—
Unto the shame that mars his past.
His only freedom here may own Whose name a stain has never known.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's carelessness. Living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body.
When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes neck out!
These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often lead to the dreadful Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back. Loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.
Do not wait until the danger is upon
you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a tri-box of GOLD MEDAL HOLLAND PILLS from the nearest druggist or direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

Boy Scouts troop No. 2 of the Baptist church will meet at the church Tuesday evening at 7:30. Dr. J. R. Whitten will speak. This is re-registration night and all boys should bring their registration dues.

Rev. J. A. Molroese, chairman of Madison Presbytery for the New Era movement, was in Madison the last of the week conferring with the Presbyterian church on raising the victory fund for Wisconsin which will be gathered next month. Mr. Molroese's district covers eight counties. The share of the local Madison church in the fund is $251.71. Among other things the five-year program of the New Era movement contemplates is the raising of $70,000,000 for the missionary and service agencies of the church. This is entirely apart from the estimated $125,000,000 spent by the churches in their own work.

TOBACCO GROWERS HUSTLE ORGANIZATION

Stockholders of the newly formed Rock County Tobacco Growers' association elected five directors and disposed of 20 more shares of stock at their meeting at West Side Odd Fellows hall yesterday afternoon. A talk on the results to be obtained by securing a warehouse and casing tobacco for the farmers was given by L. O. Lehn, Jr., Edgerton, treasurer of the Edgerton Farmers' Warehouse association.

The five directors were elected by ballot as follows: Eugene Schaefer, Charles Shooker, Charles Wright, T. M. B. Gunn, and W. H. McConnoy. These directors planned to hold a meeting sometime this afternoon for the purpose of electing permanent officers and getting immediate action. The use of a large local warehouse has been practically secured and it is hoped that it may be running by next week.

Corporation Articles Filed.

The association is now a Wisconsin corporation, the necessary articles having been filed with the secretary of state yesterday. Sixty shares of stock aggregating $1,500 have been sold as follows:

C. E. Culver, B. B. Gardner, C. R. Wright, C. B. Shooker, S. C. Ries, Guy R. Schuman, J. P. McNally, Miles P. Fanning, John A. Bler, Harry Gardner, Harry Dahly, W. H. McConnoy, John Wiskie, M. Reed, Jr., C. W. Gunn, Charles E. Sprackling, George Woodruff, T. M. B. Gunn, C. A. Siedmore, L. D. Henderson, S. N. Coon, W. R. Pember, C. C. Querna, Kaut Schumacher, C. A. Campbell, Peter Bounaed, S. Crichton, C. W. Jackman, A. C. Howard.

Payments Due March 3.

It was unanimously decided to make stock payments due March 3 at the Merchants & Savings Bank. This action was taken because the bank is the place where the money might be obtained quickly and work begun.

A committee to draw up a set of by-laws and work in connection with the tobacco growers' association was organized. The committee consists of: Ira Larrabee, Charles Shooker, William McConnoy.

Any man who paid in five dollars for a membership in the association and who does not wish to pay a $25 share of stock may receive back his money upon demand. This decision was unanimously agreed upon. The hope was expressed that all the members would take out stock and allow the $5 to apply on their purchases.

Problems of interest to hundreds of farmers will be discussed by representatives of the department of agriculture of the University at the farmers' course at Beloit, Thursday and Friday, March 6 and 7. STORES PREPARE FOR DOLLAR DAY; PRICES SLASHED FOR EVENT

Final preparations for "Dollar Day" tomorrow have been made by local merchants, and practically every store and business house in the city will open with special bargains in the morning.

Some of the firms have spent several days rearranging stock with a view to offering specials for sale. It is expected that the increased number of new buyers will repay the loss or lack of profit on some "Dollar Day" articles.

Not only the stores, but some of the theaters and banks are backing the plan. Extra tickets go to the man who purchases with a dollar. A new dollar bank account is offered by one house to the newly born babe. Twelve pages of special advertising carried yesterday in the Gazette covered many special sales.

"Poor things!" said Julia Redmond. "Do you think that they liked it?" "Liked it!" exclaimed the young man enthusiastically, "couldn't you see by their faces? One poor devil said to me: 'One can die better now, Monsieur.' There was no hope for him, it seems."

ALL LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE OF "NEUTRONE PRESCRIPTION 99"

A working man buying a bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99" was asked how it was helping him. "Helping me," he replied. "Why, there is nothing on earth like it. You don't know how my poor swollen joints and muscles pained and burned. I was nearly crazy with suffering and the worst of it was that it came and went. Before I knew about Neutrone Prescription 99 I tried all kinds of tablets and ointments, but one bottle of Neutrone Prescription 99 helped me so much that I am never without it now. All pain and swelling is gone and I feel like doing things again."

NERVOUSNESS ON THE DECLINE

Doctors Encouraged, They Hold Out Hope for All

"Nothing wrong but my nerves," we hear it all the time at work and everywhere. Certainly, nervousness is a disease. A man or woman might better have a broken leg than a shattered, run down nervous system.

Overwork and worry drains the nerve cells and centers of all their strength and vitality, then you get your sleepless nights, poor food, nervousness, worry and fear. The better doctors of today know just what to do in cases of this kind. A few weeks of Phosphated Iron will give you the strength and feed the Phosphated-hungry nerve centers.

Phosphated Iron certainly does take hold. The Phosphated Iron of patients come back is remarkable.

What a change in appearance, too. The cheeks become filled out and dusted with the healthy rosy glow that only pure, red ironized blood can give. Eyes sparkle, their step has the spring and swing of youth and the whole seems to be alive with energy and good spirits.

Mr. Nervous Man or Woman. Phosphated Iron will give it a chance. Do not drag around, all in and half dead another day when help is only a few steps away. To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put capsules only, so do not believe in cheap imitations. Insist on capsules.

PETEY DINK—THE BATHING MACHINE TURNS OUT EVERY KIND OF A BATHER.

Tremont and Marquise d'Esclignac had decidedly gone with Julia Redmond every day at a certain hour to the different hospitals, where Julia, after rendering some slight services to the nurses—for she was not needed—sang for the sick, standing in the outer hallway of the building open on every side. She knew that Sabron was not among these sick. Where he was or what sounds his ears might hear, she could not know; but she sang for him, and the fact put a sweetness in her voice that touched those who were not too far down to be uplifted, and as for the dying, it helped them, as the soldier said, to die.

She had done this for several days, but now she was restless. Sabron was not in Algiers. No news had been brought of him. His regiment had been ordered out farther into the desert that seemed to stretch away into infinity, and the vast cruel sands knew, and the stars knew where Sabron had fallen and what was his history, and they kept the secret.

The marquise made herself as much at home as possible in Algiers, put up with the inefficiency of native servants, and her duty was done. Her first romantic elan was over. Sabron had recalled to her the idyl of a love affair of a quarter of a century before, but she had been for too long Marquise d'Esclignac to go back to an ideal. She pined to have her piece of a duchess, and never spoke the unfortunate Sabron's name.

They were surrounded by fashionable life. As soon as their arrival had been made known there had been a flutter of cards and a passing of carriages and automobiles, and this worldly life added to the unhappiness and restlessness of Julia. Among the guests had been one woman whom she found sympathetic; the woman's eyes had drawn Julia to her. It was Comtesse de la Maine, a widow, young, as herself and, as Julia said, vastly better-looking. Turning to Tremont on the balcony, when he told her she was beautiful, she said:

"Madame de la Maine is my ideal of loveliness."

The young man wrinkled his fair brow.

"Do you think so, Mademoiselle? Why?"

"She has character as well as perfect lines. Her eyes look as though they could weep and laugh. Her mouth looks as though it could say adorable things."

Tremont laughed softly and said:

"Go on, you amuse me."

"And her hands look as though they could caress and comfort. I like her awfully. I wish she were my friend."

Tremont said, nothing, and she glanced at him suddenly.

"She says such lovely things about you, Monsieur."

"Really? She is too indulgent."

"Don't be worldly," said Miss Redmond gravely, "be human. I like you best so. Don't you agree with me?"

"Madame de la Maine is a very charming woman," said the young man, and the girl saw a change come over his features.

At this moment, as they stood so together, Tremont pulling his mustache and looking out through the bougainvillea vines, a dark figure made its way through the garden to the villa; came and took its position under the balcony where the duke and Miss Redmond leaned. It was a native, a man in filthy rags. He turned his face to Tremont and bowed low to the lady.

"Excuse me," he said in broken French, "my name is Hammet Abou. I was the ordonnance of Monsieur le Capitaine de Sabron."

"What?" exclaimed Tremont, "what?"

An Attack of Influenza Often Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of influenza which has visited so many homes.

The symptoms of this disease are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition. Almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular, medium and large size bottles, for sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

did you say?" "Ask him to come up here," said Julia Redmond, "or, no—let us go down to the garden." "It is damp," said Tremont, "let me get you a shawl!" "No, no, I need nothing." She had hurried before him down the little stairs leading into the garden from the balcony, and she had begun to speak to the native before Tremont appeared. In this recital he addressed his words to Julia alone.

"I am a very poor man, Excellency," he said in a melodious tone, "and very sick."

"Have you any money, Monsieur?" "Pray do not suggest it," said the duke sharply. "Let him tell what he will; we will pay him later."

"I have been very sick," said the man. "I have left the army. I do not like the French army," said the native simply.

"You are very frank," said Tremont brutally. "Why do you come here at any rate?"

"Hush," said Julia Redmond imploringly. "Do not anger him, Monsieur, he may have news." She asked: "Have you news?" and there was a note in her voice that made Tremont glance at her.

"I have seen the excellency and her grandmother," said the native, "many times going into the garrison."

"What news have you of Captain de Sabron?" asked the girl directly. Without replying, the man said in a melancholy voice:

"I was his ordonnance. I saw him fall in the battle of Dibal. I saw him shot in the side. I was shot, too. See?"

He started to pull away his rags. Tremont clutched him.

"You beast," he muttered, and pushed him back. "If you have anything to say, say it."

Looking at Julia Redmond's colorless face, the native asked meaningly: "Does the excellency wish any news?"

"Yes," said Tremont, shaking him. "And if you do not give it, it will be the worse for you."

"Monsieur le Capitaine tell, and I tell, too; I saw no more."

Tremont said:

"You see the fellow is half lunatic and probably knows nothing about Sabron. I shall put him out of the garden."

But Miss Redmond paid no attention to her companion. She controlled her voice and asked the man:

"Was the Capitaine de Sabron alone?"

"Except," said the native steadily, with a glance of disgust at the duke, "except for his little dog."

"Ah!" exclaimed Julia Redmond, with a catch in her voice, "do you hear that? He must have been his servant. What was the dog's name?"

"My name," said the native, "is Hammet Abou."

To her at this moment Hammet Abou was the most important person in North Africa.

"What was the little dog's name, Hammet Abou?"

The man raised his eyes and looked at the white woman with admiration.

"Pitcheoune," he said, and saw the effect.

Tremont saw the effect upon her, too.

"I have a wife and ten children," said the man, "and I live far away."

"Heavens! I haven't my purse," said Julia Redmond. "Will you not give him something, Monsieur?"

"Wait," said Tremont, "wait. What else do you know? If your information is worth anything to us we will pay you, don't be afraid."

"Perhaps the excellency's grand-mother would like to hear, too," said the man naively. Julia Redmond smiled: the youthful Marquise d'Esclignac! Once more Tremont seized the man by the arm and shook him a little. "If you don't tell what you have to say and be quick about it, my dear fellow, I shall hand you over to the police."

"What for?" said the man, "what have I done?"

"Well, what have you got to tell, and how much do you want for it?"

"I want one hundred francs for this," and he pulled out from his dirty rags a little packet and held it up cautiously.

It looked like a package of letters and a man's pocketbook.

"You take it," said the Duc de Tremont to Julia Redmond. "You take it, Mademoiselle." She did so without hesitation; it was evidently Sabron's pocketbook, a leather one with his initials upon it, together with a little package of letters. On the top she saw her letter to him. Her hand trembled so that she could scarcely hold the package. It seemed to be all that was left to her. She heard Tremont ask:

"Where did you get this, you miserable dog?"

"After the battle," said the man coolly, with evident truthfulness, "I was very sick. We were in camp several days at —. Then I got better and went along the dried river bank to look for Monsieur le Capitaine, and I found this in the sands."

"Do you believe him?" asked Julia Redmond.

"Hush," said Tremont. He did not wish to tell her he thought the man capable of robbing the dead body of his master. He asked the native:

"Have you no other news?"

The man was silent. He clutched the rags at his breast and looked at Julia Redmond.

"Please give him some money, Monsieur."

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to cure 25¢ and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It is simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add, again, granulated sugar, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough. It penetrates through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"I am not idling," defiantly declared the boy. "I am working for a thrift stamp."

"Working for a thrift stamp?" wondering responded the woman, who couldn't see any signs of labor.

"Yes, ma'am," returned the boy. "Mr. Smith is sitting on the veranda with sister, and he told me that he would give me the price of a thrift stamp if I would watch for father."

CHURCH BASKETBALL ENTHUSIASTS PLAN LEAGUE FORMATION

Enthusiasm for the formation of a church basketball league ran high at a meeting held last night when representatives of six churches signified their intention of entering teams. About 15 were present with Physical Director Craig at the meeting, and it is expected that the league will consist of at least eight teams.

The prize of the church league tournament will be a silver cup offered by the Gazette. The cup will change hands every year until one team has won it three years, when it will become the permanent property of that team.

The schedule of games will probably be set to start March 12. Another organization meeting will be held Monday at 7:30, when it is expected that two or more churches will join the six already in the league. The Presbyterians were invited to enter a team of their own, rather than forming with the Congregationalists a joint Federated team.

A committee of two of those present with Mr. Craig will commence work immediately on the formation of a schedule. Games will probably be played in the Y. M. C. A. gym, the Congregational church gym, and possibly in the high school as well. The church games may form preliminaries to the regular high school games. Two games will be played weekly.

Professionals and the first seven men of the high school squad, as furnished by the coach's list, will be barred from participation.

BARBERS TRIMMED BY ODD FELLOWS' FIVE

Scriven's barbers lost to I. O. O. F. No. 90 bowling team at the East Side alleys last night by a margin of 106 pins. The razor wielders copped the first frame but fell down in the next two allowing the lodge men to push ahead to a victory. Chase of the winning team was high man with 196.

The scores:

NEW "Y" TEAM MAY PLAY BIG CONTESTS

A senior team to represent the Y. M. C. A. will be organized, according to a decision reached at a meeting last night. Tryouts will be held Thursday evening, and practice is scheduled for every Monday and Thursday evening following the senior meeting.

Requests from Milwaukee, Racine, Rockford, Beloit and several other cities for games with a team of this kind caused the decision for its formation. Physical Director Craig has called for games from the headquarters company, Camp Grant; the Knights of Columbus, Milwaukee; and the Sundstrand Adding Machine company team of Beloit, which was defeated by the Lakota Cardinals several weeks ago.

Only members of gym classes at the Y. M. C. A. are eligible to play on the senior team, though those successful in the tryouts may play by joining one of the classes.

EMPLOYED BOYS PLAN ORGANIZATION SOON

The first step in completing the organization of an Employed Boys' club, started several weeks ago, will be taken tonight when a committee of five boys will meet with Robert Cunningham. Plans will be drawn up and proposed to the employed boys at a meeting tomorrow night.

Robert Cunningham, who is to have charge of the work said that he was enthusiastic about the prospects for the new club. The plans which are drawn up tonight will probably embody the ideals which the club will work for. Tomorrow night's meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m.

Henry Tall Breaks H. S. Bowling Record

The high school bowling record on the Y. M. C. A. Alleys was broken last night in a match game by Henry Tall who rolled a score of 225. The former record was held by Raymond Connell, with a total of 224.

Golf Net to Be Open at "Y" Continuously

The big golf net which was set up in the Y. M. C. A. two years ago, was again put in place in the dining room of the association building, and will be open to golf enthusiasts day and night.

The net was formerly placed in the gymnasium, where practice was stopped between four and six o'clock, but in its new place there will be no interruption.

PHELPS APPOINTED "Y" CAMP DIRECTOR

A. S. Phelps, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has been chosen by W. H. Wones, state secretary of the association, as camp director of the state boys' camp at Phantom Lake from August 10 to 22. Mr. Phelps stated today that he would probably accept the appointment.

Appointment as camp leader at this camp, the last of the four summer Y. M. C. A. outdoor camps, and the largest, is one of the highest honors paid to Y. M. C. A. executives in the state. At least 150 boys will be present. Three camps smaller in extent precede the August camp, and other men, many of them much older in boys' work, have been chosen to lead them. This is Mr. Phelps' first year in boys' work.

The Phantom Lake camp is semi-military in nature. The boys rise at reveille and go to bed at taps, and play and exercise are divided into regular periods. Fifteen big tents house ed the boys through the camp last summer.

Employed Boys Play Postponed Contest

The employed boys' team led by Hager will meet Newman's high school class basketball five at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. A fast game is expected. The Y. M. C. A. championship is at stake.

Dorrbaker Purchases East Side Bowling Alleys

Janesville bowlers will be pleased to learn that the East Side Bowling alleys have been purchased by Henry Dorrbaker, Beloit. Mr. Dorrbaker intends to remodel the building and will tear out an alley upstairs and on the first floor. The latest equipment will be added to the six remaining alleys making them the fastest in this section of the state.

"Cards" to Meet Fairies on Armory Floor Tonight

With a strong array of crack basketball artists, the Lakota Cardinals will clash with the Beloit Fairies at the armory tonight in what promises to be a battle from whistle to whistle. The Gateway City yossers are well groomed for the fray. Two former I. A. C. players have been added to the line-up and they look strong on paper. The Cards will have their usual line-up: Henning, Casserly, Phelps, Peterson, Cushing.

EPISCOPALS DEFEAT PRESBYTERIAN FIVE

The Episcopal bowling team walked off with an easy victory against the Presbyterians last night, when on the Y. M. C. A. alleys they defeated their opponents by over 200 pins. Cary of the losing five rolled the high score of 271.
